dragon child

Prologue

it was a warm summer night the whole village was silent except for one sound from the healer's hut. that sound was from a viking screaming in pain as she was giving birth. outside stood the chief walking back and forth waiting for his wife. even if he knew giving birth hurt he still worried about his wife since he hated to hear or see her in pain. suddenly he froze in mid step as he heard a sound that made him very happy, it was the cry from a baby at that moment the village healer gothi came and opened the door and gestured him to come inside.

"Come meet your sons" said valhallarama as she held two baby boys in her arms.

"Sons? but gothi said it would just be one before?" said said happy and confused.

"She was wrong but I have named them both this is drake (she held up her right arm with the baby that was a bit bigger) and this is the one that was not planned so I named him hiccup (she held up her left arm with a smaller baby)" valhallarama said with a smile on her face.

"hiccup? why?" asked stoic.

"Because hiccup means mistake and that's a name that has run along your family dear remember?" she asked politely.

“oh yes how could i forget” he said with a really big smile.

next day in the great hall

valhallarama gave gothi drake so she could read his future, the elder started humming some sort of ancient melody as her eyes fluttered open completely white and then closed and went back to normal and she said

“he will be a big asset to the village he will be the best dragon slayer and he will even beat his fathers records in dragon training” the elder said with a smile.

both parents looked happily at each other when they received drake back.

valhallarama gave gothi her second son hiccup so she could read his future.

the elder repeated the same melody and her eyes fluttered open and went back to normal a little later and said.

“this boy will have some hard years because of his size but he will be the greatest warrior this village has ever seen” valhallarama was almost at tears because of the happiness she felt over knowing that both her children was going to do great things for the village.

two weeks later valhallarama had just put her children to bed as she heard someone scream “DRAGONS” valhallarama ran into her bedroom took her warhammer and grabbed her husbands battle axe she ran out the door towards the great hall where they held a meeting.

every viking started running to their homes to get their weapons to fight the dragons.

storic saw his wife running towards the great hall when he was running away from it with everyone else as he got his weapon from her when they met in the middle of the hall.

“what species” asked storic his wife.

“hideous sippets, groncles, deadly nadders and gheartrud saw a monstrous nightmare.” valhallarama reported to her husband.

“any night furrys?” storic asked.

“not so far thank fully” valhallarama said.

“good” said storic before he and his wife rushed into battle with fierce war cries.

after the dragons had fled valhallarama had killed 7 dragons and storic had killed 8 they were talking about what they should do about the dead dragons.

they where desides that it shudl be used on new sheilds so tehy didnt burst into flames.

as they were about to enter their house they realised that it was dead quiet they ran up for the stairs to see that the walls in the corridors hat claw marks and burn marks as well as there was black scales at some spots.

bouth parents hearts allmost stopped at the thought of waht that might have happened.

they ran to the childrens room to see a true mess every thing was tipped all the blankets where on the floor on a pile and bouth the children where gone.

valhallaramma fell to the floor and started to cry as hard as she culd but her tears stopped at a sound she thought she whuld not hear it was the sound of a baby.

she looked franaticly around the room to find the source of the sound.

it came from the pile of blankets she began to remove them all and it reviled their child drake.

valhallarama became so glad to se her son she lifted him up and showed stoic who still stod frozen in the door way.

Â"with hiccupÂ"

Â"my queen here is the hatchling you asked forÂ" said a deadly nadder with blue and black scales.

good now bring him to me. said the queen as she came up from her pit.

Â"as you wish my queen but i belive he whuld be more usefull here then if he was eatenÂ" she said the queen chuckled and said Â"saphire i was not planning on eating him i was going to bring him to the care takers he will prove most usefull later. she said with a dark chuckle.

chapter 1

hiccup was looking out from a oppening in the mountian as he watched the young dragons train on their ire breathing.

Â"hiccup you shuldent be here you know the queen dosent want you hurtÂ" said a hideous zippleback.

every other viking whuld have been terrified at the sight but not hiccup Â"i know juliaÂ" he said.

Â"oh and befor i forger the queen wants to see youÂ" she said “hmmm i wonder what mom wants. i will go to her now goodbye julia” he said to the dragon as he walked towards a tunnel to the center of the mountain.

as he was walking he saw his best friend that was a night fury that he had named toothless when he was little because he didn't have teeth at first.

“hey toothless you wanna come with me?” he asked

“sure hiccup” he responded

when they were at the middle a gigantic head came up and said “hiccup as you know you are an excellent blacksmith and an even better healer i wish for you to go to the island where the biggest amount of dragons are hurt to heal them and increase their carrying capacity. do you understand?”

hiccup nodded and said “i understand i will get to it at once but first i wonder one thing”

“and what is that my darling?” the queen said

“can i bring toothless?” he asked

“why of course you can” she said with what looked like a smile on the giant head.

“thank you mother” hiccup said as he and toothless ran into a different cave filled with dragons that were going to travel to berk.

later on berk

“toothless look the village” hiccup said.

he and toothless looked down to see burning houses and dragons killing a few vikings but the thing hiccup noticed the most was dragons becoming severely wounded hiccup felt like he would throw up when he saw a viking chop of the head of a deadly nadder.

“we better hurry to that cove so we can begin helping them” toothless said and hiccup agreed.

astrid's pov

i was putting out a fire when i saw a deadly nadder with some sort of baskets on both sides.

when it noticed me it shot spikes at me and i dodged them right in time after it had shot its spikes at me it started to charge at me but it got hit by an arrow in the rib so it hissed in pain and started to take a run to the forest.

after the raid she ran to the chief to tell him about what she had seen but when she came to him she heard gobber saying that he saw a groncle wearing the same thing as the deadly nadder that astrid had seen.

“gobber stop speaking nonsens”stoic said but as he said that astrid came running up to him

“cheif i saw a deadly nadder with two baskets on its back and it ran into the forest after it got hurt” astrid said

“SEE i told ya stoic” gobber said.

as on que stoics son drake came running towards them and said “dad i saw a monstus nightmare with baskets on it” stoic looked dounb founded as he saw 3 of the 4 persons he trusted teh most say the same thing.

“very well next raid you and astrid will follow eny hurt dragon and see why they run into the forest and try to find out why they have baskets” stoic said.

ok well i hope you liked it and please dont comment about miss spellings if you find eny becuse i have dyslectia however you may tell me about eny good spelling program you know to help me :3
